

PERMISSIVE ACCESS

This footpath on the edge of grass fields and farm tracks provides extensive views east over the Lincolnshire Wolds and south towards Horncastle, particularly from the geological feature of Hoe Hill. The walk goes round grassland that is being managed without fertilizer and agrochemicals to increase the diversity of plants such as sedges and to provide nesting and feeding habitat for skylarks and other birds. The path connects to the bridleway to Ashby Puerorum and by a short link to the footpath to Salmonby.

This access has been provided under the Department for Environment, Food & Rural Affairs' farm conservation schemes as managed by Natural England, which help farmers and land managers protect and improve the countryside, its wildlife and history. It is permissive access and no new rights of way are being created. Existing rights of way are not affected. Please follow the Countryside Code and observe any other requirements shown above. Do not disturb wildlife, livestock or other visitors and in particular keep dogs under control. This is working farmland so please take care. People using this site do so at their own risk. Access ends on 28th February 2019.

For access related queries please call the Environmental Stewardship Permissive Access Team on 0300 060 1114 (Office Hours).
For all other Defra related queries please contact the Defra Helpline on 08459 335577 (Office Hours).
