

PERMISSIVE ACCESS

This permissive access route runs from Sotby to Hatton alongside Sotby Wood joining up with existing public rights of way. The paths run alongside arable fields which have margins of grass and wildflowers to increase the biodiversity of the area and provide food and habitat for wildlife. Some of the corners of fields have also been left uncultivated to provide food, shelter and protection for wildlife. Key species found on the farm include brown hare, tree sparrow, corn bunting, grey partridge and skylark.

This access has been provided under the Department for Environment, Food & Rural Affairs' farm conservation schemes as managed by Natural England, which help farmers and land managers protect and improve the countryside, its wildlife and history. It is permissive access and no new rights of way are being created. Existing rights of way are not affected. Please follow the Countryside Code and observe any other requirements shown above. Do not disturb wildlife, livestock or other visitors and in particular keep dogs under control. This is working farmland so please take care; people using this site do so at their own risk. Access ends on 29th February 2020.
